Classifiers in the Classroom

with presenter

Nikki Horrell

June 26, 2010

9am to 4pm

Held at:

NorCal Center on Deafness
4708 Roseville Road, Suite 112
North Highlands, CA 95660

This workshop has been approved by RID CMP Sponsor A Sure Sign, Inc. for 0.60 Professional Studies CEUs (staceysigns@yahoo.com.) Though we believe this workshop will benefit interpreters in any genre, it targets educational interpreters at the intermediate level. Presenter will present in American Sign Language only, and no interpreters will be provided.

About the workshop: This workshop focuses on the use of classifiers and non-manual markers in the K-12 setting. A variety of subject areas, including the sciences, will be explored. Nikki will demonstrate and teach techniques for conveying a visual picture conceptually accurate to the spoken message.

About the instructor: Nichola (Nikki) Horrell is currently an ASL lecturer at CSU, Sacramento. Nichola has been teaching ASL since 1989 at several different colleges. In the mid 1990's, Nikki was involved with the nationally known Signing Naturally ASL instructional videos. Nikki received an MA in Clinical Psychology from the California School of Professional Psychology—three teaching certifications. Before receiving her BA from Sonoma State University, Nikki spent two years studying at Gallaudet University. While an undergraduate at Gallaudet, Nikki was hired by Gallaudet's graduate school of linguistics as a language model. Nikki can trace her Deaf lineage back several generations. Nikki has four children, three of whom are Deaf, and her husband, a Deaf Ed. teacher, is Deaf as well.
